Background:
The Child Health and Disability Prevention (CHDP) program is a State program of health screening for children in California which incorporates the federally mandated Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment (EPSDT) program. CHDP is available to all Medi-Cal beneficiaries under the age of 21. This section provides an explanation of the purpose and provisions of CHDP.

This section is updated to the current format and updates procedures.

Purpose:
The purpose of screening is the earliest possible detection, correction, and prevention of problems in health and development, which are potentially handicapping or could lead to more serious medical problems.

Policy:
A. Provisions:
Health screening is a series of evaluations by physicians or paramedical staff, such as pediatric nurses or nurse practitioners, supervised by a physician. The screening evaluation includes health and development history, physical examinations, developmental assessment, vision and hearing tests, dental inspection, lab tests appropriate for age and population groups, immunizations, nutritional assessment, and other tests as needed. Also, children 3 years of age and older can be referred to a dentist for a yearly checkup, preventive dental care, and needed treatment.

Under EPSDT, the above tests are done at periodic intervals according to the age of the child. The screener must explain the results of the screening to the parent/caretaker of the child and make a referral for diagnosis and treatment to the appropriate source of medical care when necessary.

B. Availability:
Lists of CHDP providers of medical and dental screenings by geographical area are available to each FRC and on the internet. The lists include physicians and dentists who provide CHDP services as well as the local health department. Contracted Health Care Plan (HCP) providers must provide CHDP services to all eligible children who are enrolled in the HCP.

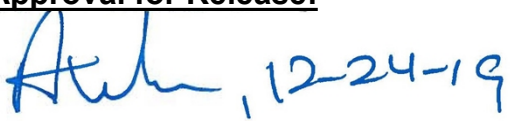

Procedure:
See above.

Program Impacts:
None.
