Identification of Persons for Claiming Financial Participation	Number	Page
	41-500.G	1 of 2

Revision Date:
December 1, 2024

Background:
Once financial eligibility has been determined and a payment is to be issued, an evaluation must be made to determine whether the persons in the Assistance Unit (AU) are to be paid as federally eligible persons or essential persons.

Purpose:
The purpose of this section is to define the Federal Financial Participation (FFP) category for each person in the AU. This material revision is due to sunset review. No policy or procedure changes have been made.

Policy
Determine Assistance Unit Members Claiming Status
If an AU is determined to be financially eligible and an aid payment is to be issued, determine whether FFP is available for each person in the AU. For purposes of determining FFP, customers are categorized into two groups:

- Federally eligible persons.
- Essential persons.

The following is a description of the categories of persons who must be included in each group.

Federally Eligible Persons

- Children.
  All children are federally eligible who are deprived of any parental support and care due to a parent's:
  - Death.
  - Incapacity.
  - Continued absence.
  - Unemployment (when the parent meets federal eligibility conditions).
- Adults.
  An adult in the AU is federally eligible when the adult is any of the following:
  - The caretaker relative of a federally eligible child, or of a child who is receiving Supplemental Security Income/State Supplementary Payment (SSI/SSP).
  - The second parent of a federally eligible child, or of a child who is receiving SSI/SSP.
  - The needy stepparent or California domestic partner of a parent of a federally eligible child, when the child's parent in the home is incapacitated.
- Pregnant Person.
  A person who meets all the following conditions is federally eligible:
  - Has no federally eligible children.
  - Has provided medical verification of the pregnancy.
  - Whose child, if born, and living with the previously pregnant parent would be federally eligible for aid in the month of payment.

  and is either:

- Under the age of 19 and has not obtained a high school diploma or its equivalent.
- The pregnancy has reached the three-month period (last trimester of pregnancy) immediately before the month of anticipated birth. If the child is born prior to the originally estimated date of birth, the anticipated month of birth is changed to the month in which the birth occurred, and federal financial participation is retroactively available for the three-month period prior to the month of birth.

Essential Persons

An essential person is a stepparent, California domestic partner of a parent or Alternately Sentenced Prisoner (ASP) who is not an otherwise federally eligible person and who is any of the following:

- Related to a child determined to be federally eligible.
- Related to a child who is either:
  - Receiving SSI/SSP.
  - Employment Services sanctioned but would otherwise be a federally eligible child.

Procedure:

None.

Program Impacts:
